How will this event work?

- Participants will play in conversation using a dynamic group communication process called Open Space Technology (www.spiritedorg.com)
- Participants generate the topics and content of all discussions
- All individual contributions to conversations will be honoured and respected

Outcomes from the event:

- New possibilities for action and co-operation
- A strengthened network of response-ABLE people
- A take home document of the compiled contributions of the whole group

Our commitment to you!

- Each participant will be fed, enriched, engaged and recognized
- The event will be professionally facilitated by Larry Peterson, a leading certified Open Space Technology Practitioner
- Possibilities emerging from our collaborative effort will be greater than those uncovered individually
- $4 from sale of every ticket will go towards our new web site which will be geared towards innovatively supporting socially and environmentally conscious businesses and organizations

This Open Space event will provide participants with a unique experiential adventure to Enlighten the Sweet Spots and transcend yesterday's challenges into today's opportunities!
